Copyright: Conditions for Publication for Copyright Owner

1. It is the journal's policy to acquire copyright on all contributions. There are two reasons for this:
  - (a) ownership of copyright by the publisher ensures maximum protection against infringement of copyright protected material through breach of copyright or piracy anywhere in the world;
  - (b) it also ensures that requests by third parties to reprint or reproduce a contribution, or part of it in any format, are handled efficiently in accordance with our general policy which encourages dissemination of knowledge inside the framework of copyright.
2. In return for your assignment of copyright, we undertake to publish your contribution to the journal in a timely and professional manner and license you with the following rights.
3. We hereby grant permission for you to publish the whole or any part of your Contribution in a printed work written, edited or compiled by you, provided the usual acknowledgements are given regarding copyright notice and reference to first publication by the Journal, RESEARCH AND PRACTICE IN HUMAN RESOURCE MANAGEMENT. We further license you to make photocopies of your article for your own teaching needs, or to supply on an individual basis to research colleagues.
4. We also grant you permission to make available the whole or any part of your Contribution electronically on a secure network at your institution (i.e. one for which access is limited to members of the institution and physical visitors to the institution's site or sites only), provided the usual acknowledgements are given regarding copyright notice and reference to first publication by the Journal, RESEARCH AND PRACTICE IN HUMAN RESOURCE MANAGEMENT.
5. Permission is also granted for you to make available electronically the abstract and up to 50% of the published text on the World Wide Web, provided the usual acknowledgements are given regarding copyright notice and reference to first publication by the Journal, RESEARCH AND PRACTICE IN HUMAN RESOURCE MANAGEMENT, provided this is not through a third party commercial provider, which requests for use of material from the Journal should be forwarded to the publisher.
  - (a) You will be informed, wherever practicable, of all requests, to which we have agreed, to reproduce your contribution, or a substantial part of it, in any other print-on-paper publication, or an electronic product such as a CD Rom where your contribution is specifically requested, rather than as part of the journal as a whole, subject to 5 (b) below. Please keep our mailing list up to date with your institutional or business address changes to facilitate this.
  - (b) The Journal may make the necessary arrangements, whether they themselves or through their agents, to place the Contribution in electronic storage so that it may be transmitted to meet legitimate requests for access including transmission in a document delivery service, and also the right to mandate reprographic rights organisations (RROs), such as the Copyright Clearance Center in the USA, and the Copyright Licensing Agency in the UK, each of which offers centralised arrangements for photocopying and digitization in their respective territories.
  - (c) The Journal may be made available in both print and electronic forms.
6. If either of the following applies you may need to sign a different version of this agreement, in which case please contact the publisher;
  - (a) If you are a US Government employee and the Contribution was made in that capacity, or (b) If you are an employee of the British Government or of a Company or Institution and the Contribution was made in that capacity.

Inclusion of Other Copyright Material

If you have included copyright material, e.g. illustrations, photographs, tables, charts, maps, company logos/trademarks or other visual material, etc. and not requested permission for this use under the Fair Dealing provisions of the UK Copyright, Patents and Designs Act 1998 or Fair Use Provisions under US law for use of material in review, or other International Copyright Laws which may be in force, please give your reasons for such inclusion below:
